

■ PREFACE

Research for this book was made possible by the projects “Papal representatives in Hungary in the eleventh to thirteenth centuries – online database (NKFIH NN 109690)” and “Papal representatives in fourteenth-century Hungary – online database (NKFIH NN 124763)”, as well as by funding from the János Bolyai Research Scholarship of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences (BO/00148/17/2). I wish to express my gratitude to Prof. Dr. Gergely Kiss (University of Pécs), head of the research groups, to the management and staff of the Academy, and to the reviewers of my grant application. Not least of all, I am grateful to Prof. Dr. Pál Fodor and Prof. Dr. Attila Zsoldos, editors of the Arpadiana series, who expressed confidence in my work.

During my research, several fellow academics offered me indispensable assistance. In particular, I want to thank Prof. Dr. Márta Font, my former doctoral supervisor and my former head of department, Prof. Dr. Endre Sashalmi and Prof. Dr. Dániel Bagi, my former department heads, and Prof. Dr. Tamás Fedeles, the current head of the Department of Medieval and Early Modern History at the University of Pécs. My thanks also go to my colleagues, Dr. habil. Ferenc Végh, Dr. Péter Báling, Dr. Ágnes Maléth, and Bálint Bandi. I should like to single out my former doctoral supervisor, Prof. Dr. Gergely Kiss. Through his comments and advice, he greatly helped me in the final stages of preparing the manuscript.

Thanks also go to fellow historians at the Institute of History of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Pécs, as well as to medievalists working at other universities and research institutes. It would be impossible to list them all by name, but the former group includes Dr. Réka Gyimesi and Dr. Norbert Csibi, while in the case of the latter, I wish to single out Dr. habil. Zsolt Hunyadi (University of Szeged) and Dr. habil. Gábor Thoroczky (Eötvös Loránd University Budapest) for reviewing my habilitation thesis. Their comments, reflections and suggestions greatly contributed to the accuracy and efficacy of my research and thus to the publication of this book. I am also grateful to Dr. Szilvia Somogyi (Research Centre for the Humanities Gyula Moravcsik Institute, Budapest) for her help with finalizing the text.

■ PREFACE

My exploration of the chosen topic would not have been possible without the doctoral study and mentorship in Erlangen, the subsequent Erasmus scholarships, and the stays in Tübingen, which were supported on two occasions by the DAAD. I wish, therefore, to express gratitude to my former supervisor, Prof. Dr. Klaus Herbers (University of Erlangen-Nuremberg), and to Prof. Dr. Steffen Patzold, head of the Department of Medieval History in Tübingen. I wish also to thank my former colleague in Erlangen, Dr. Claudia Alraum, who helped me access some of the literature remotely.

Furthermore, I am greatly indebted to Dr. Petra Polyák (NAH Baranya County Archives), who aided the completion of this book by proofreading the manuscript several times, and who has always supported me in my work.

Last but not least, I am deeply grateful to my parents and Renáta for their love and support.
